

TO EVERYONE IN LONDON, EMMA COOPER has the world at her feet. Against all odds she has landed a Wall Street job, is being fast-tracked by the high-flying Brad, and is living the high life in Manhattan. And it's only a question of time before gorgeous doctor Anthony returns from Africa and pops the question.

Emma is not going to ruin their illusion.

Gone are the days of dancing until sunrise... now sunrise is when Emma leaves the office. Investment banking is rough, competitive and a man's world. Support comes with strings. Friends are fickle. It's all about the deals, the bonus and the brand. Lonely, exhausted and emotionally vulnerable,

Emma refuses to give up. And she can't. Because she has a huge secret...

Astrid Fleming survived investment banking and continued to live in New York for a further five years. During that time, she started writing this novel, which was completed in South Africa. She now lives in Johannesburg with her husband Andrew.
